Dear friends,

I dedicate April’s report to an article written by Samar Haskaya, an 11 year old girl that apart of being one of our students is also an amateur young journalist.

“Squash, a sport for every moment and everywhere. Squash is the best sports field for greater flexibility and endurance of the body, it is the perfect sport and requires high concentration.

A combination of good management and the right training leads to surprising effect, causing students to achieve progress on the sporting and academic and social parts.

Our school “Alzahraa” obtained high results following the participation of students from the school in this sport for the last two years. We have gained incredible insights and above all the value of coexistence.

Students from our school joining and playing with Jewish students. This integration has opened for us opportunity to know the other, to improve our Hebrew, and to get bigger confidence and to weave new friendships between Arab and Jewish students.

We are pleased that the meeting and activities are not only for sport and knowledge of rules of the sport, but also provide us with extra activities of group exercises by our great teachers on Sundays, and not to forget the English sessions which takes place on Wednesdays which are fun and pleasurable.

This success and the encouragement and backing provided by the school administration and those responsible for the program will encourage many students from our school to join the sport in the coming years.

On behalf of all students, we are grateful to Mr. Nitzan and Mr. Yariv for the support and help and for your work for the success of the program.”
